New Millennium Millionaire Secrets to Fortune, Prosperity and Happiness

My Background

I grew up in rural dairy farm country in Northern Australia in a middle class working family. Like those of you reading this, I have gone through the struggles of the ups and downs of money, especially after returning to the United States in the late 1980's. After reading through the most popular and effective books on how to create prosperity and abundance, I discovered they all carry a single theme that runs through them all - that there exists a source from which a never ending supply flows. Once a person can acknowledge and tap into this flow, the amount of money in their lives naturally increases. It is simply a matter of changing from a belief in lack to a belief in an unlimited source from which prosperity and abundance flow from. Once you have more belief in yourself, you'll naturally aim for higher ideals, which leads to a higher standard of living and you'll end up shooting for the stars or going for jobs that you really want.

This book is the result of business and personal experience of managing the flow of money from more than 2 decades. This has resulted in 3 core areas of experience and knowledge. 1: Business experience. 2: Recovery from temporary financial setbacks. 3: Bouncing back and exercising resilience.

Currently I maintain 3 residences. The first is in Hawaii Kai in the Hawaiian Islands, the second is in Topanga Canyon, California and the third in King's Heights, Portland Oregon. During the late 1990's I had a successful technology company in Los Angeles. In 2002, alongside my technology company, I operated as an independent self-help coach in Los Angeles, helping thousands of people achieve their dreams through my self-help CD and E-Book courses. In 2008, I then left to pursue an essential oil health product that I had invented in San Jose, California. The product became extremely successful with upscale clients in Palo Alto, Beverly Hills, Redondo Beach Malibu and all over the west coast of the United States. In 2012 I launched my own brand name energy supplement called Scott's Hawaiian SOD Booster, which currently sells on mightyz.com. During 2013 I began my own publishing firm and took up the role as a writer / researcher. As of 2016 I have written more than 19 books and am a variety consultant for a number of topics.

There are times we temporarily lose touch with the vital link from which all prosperity flows and we become vulnerable, falling victim to fear. The science of epigenetics states that it is your perception of your environment that controls your genes. You are not a victim of your genes. This is because you are the one who has the power to can change your environment. The purpose of this book is to reconnect anyone who has lost touch with this source. All negative financial situations are short term, and when the flow returns, it returns stronger.

Introduction

Some of us may experience short term periods of money shortages during our lives. This purpose of this book is to put us back in touch with the flow that we are responsible for the flow of money entering our lives. It reminds us that money shortages are only temporary and that at certain times we need to honestly re-examine our true financial situation.

Today people are dying of stress. We are working all the days of our lives to create wealth at the expense of our health. Then we seem to spend all of our wealth we have strived to earn, trying to get our health back. We don't have to go down that road anymore. True abundance is about having enough money as well as the time to enjoy the freedom it brings. The freedom to travel, explore your hobbies and interests, give back and create a life truly free of stress and worry.

Wealth is a symbol of infinite energetic potential, much like our own inner potential. There are people who obtain wealth by following the laws of abundance and enjoy the time money brings them. Wealth can also make one unhappy emotionally.

Obtaining your wealth by driving yourself to the point of sickness or death can cause you to sacrifice a lot emotionally or at the expense of others. In the long run a high price is paid for seeking fortune the wrong way.

Throughout struggle, sacrifices become so strong, you may end up feeling deprived, unhappy and very empty within.

Chapter 1 – How Money Blocks Are Formed

Before we can grow our wealth, we first have to understand that if we want to increase our wealth, it is key that we have a smooth, clear flow of energy. Money is energy and money works along the same principals as a flowing river. It wants to flow and circulate its energy. Fear and doubt act as logs that clog up the flow. This reduces the chances of positive opportunities and causes us to operate on a survival level where the lifestyle of “barley enough to get by” becomes the norm.

The majority of money blocks stem from early childhood beliefs. You can tell if a money block exists because when money effortlessly starts flowing, you may experience an emotional crisis, or feel resistance to move ahead. When we release these blocks by fearlessly examining our beliefs, energy starts flowing again.

Emperor Theodosius and how his philosophy contributed to prosperity blocks

In the year AD 380 Emperor Theodosius made Christianity the official religion of the state. During his reign, the emergence of the church as the sole governing force arose throughout the Empire. This period in earth's history was known as the "barren age" and very slow progress in mankind's history was made. In 393 AD Theodosius issued a strict law prohibiting non- Christian religious customs and disbanded the Olympic Games. He was also particularly strict about the suppression of paganism. On 17 January 395, Theodosius died. He was buried at Constantinople on 8 November 395. Shortly thereafter Theodosius's army rapidly dissolved and his junior successors (both in their teens) never showed any signs of fitness to rule. During their reign, Theodosius polices carried on, however his polices eventually led to a series of administrative disasters.

During Theodosius's reign the system was strongly feudal and people did not understand that the law of supply and increase unfolded at the same rate as the need or ability to use substance is developed. This is a key part towards creating wealth and which we shall go into more detail later on in this book. To put it simply, people were not free to pursue their ideas or ambitions without fear of being persecuted by the church. Parts of this belief system still survive today.

By pursuing one's vision, it helps us recognize the spirit of infinite plenty. Ambitions create a magnet to attract a continual supply of energy that fuel ideas, growth and innovation.

By continually thinking thoughts of plenty and prosperity flowing from an infinite power, forces are set into operation that sooner or later bring prosperous conditions

The law of attraction is constant throughout the universe. The never changing principle is like attracts like. By connecting with the Infinite Power from which all flows, we begin living in the realization of oneness, causing a change in perception, creating abundance out of all things allowing us to visualize at all times the prosperous conditions we desire.

Some people believe poverty makes them closer to God. This idea has absolutely no basis for its existence. There is no virtue in being poor. This type of thinking was born from the idea of asceticism (extreme forms of self-discipline and avoidance of all forms of indulgence for religious reasons). As asceticism became mainstream, it created conflicts between the flesh and true spirit. This erroneous concept is a man-made one generated in the minds of those with a one-sided view of life. This has created an unnecessary paralyzing fear that still lingers today in some belief systems. The way to dispel this unnecessary fear is to come to the realization of the truth, then the fear ceases to tyrannize you.

There really is never a lack of money, only a fear to express our true potential.

How to Use Visualization to Manifest Your Desires

Our thoughts are expressed as pictures. Our imagination guides us as we create the future. When a person has an urge to seek prosperity, it is an urge of spirit seeking a higher expression through them; seeking to rise to higher levels.

When you combine imagination with faith you align with the forces of manifestation

Asking the divine for more is a complete waste of time. Why? Because riches and plenty already exist all around you. Asking for more stems from a mindset of scarcity.

Instead, with belief, ask for an understanding to lay hold of more with your mind; an increase in your capacity

What is Visualization?

Visualization consists of holding a thought at the right time, in the right way, until the right feeling develops.

New Millennium Millionaire Secrets to Fortune, Prosperity and Happiness

When used with the right instrument, it will attract to you the right opportunities at the right time as doors unexpectedly swing open for you, whereby you end up attaining what you desire.

Visualization Tips:

1) When using visualization to manifest goals, visualize what you are seeking first, followed by feelings of joy and feelings of already having achieved it in the now. Contemplate a happy outcome.

2) Continue visualizing the goal as already having been achieved until you have obtained the right level of feeling, than do no more. If you put too much feeling into it, it short circuits the outcome.

3) Best results are obtained by visualizing your goal up to 3 times a day, because the exercise works best spread out throughout the day, rather than a single intense focused session once per day. Most people who effectively use visualization find 3 sessions per day performed morning, noon and evening lasting between 10 to 15 minutes each session achieves the best results.

4) After visualizing, writing down or affirming what you want, then detaching and letting go and then giving it up to God (or whatever deity you believe in) helps the vision manifest. By not allowing yourself to fully detach from what you have imagined, you create the belief that you can do it all on your own. Detachment places our desire into the hands of the universe, knowing it will manifest in its own time for the good of all.

Let go, detach and let the universe create through you. By doing so, you merely plant the seed and the divine supplies the energy for growth.

Like Attracts Like

When we can hold firm in our mind what we want with enough energy, it will attract to us the situation, event or object we desire the most. However there are a few simple guidelines that must be followed first in order to get accurate results.

Let's start by using a sewing machine as an example. If you want a sewing machine, before you create such a thought, first make sure the image is clearly formed as you think about it. Hold a mental image of it with utmost positive certainty that it is immediately on its way to you.

After this thought matures, have the utmost, unquestionable faith that your sewing machine is coming and that you truly are worthy of and deserve it.

When you realize that you are enough, that you have enough, it leads to feelings of contentment. This is where prosperity really begins flowing. Whenever thoughts of what you are intending to manifest enter into your mind throughout the day, speak or think of it in absolute confident terms, knowing it will arrive. With utmost conviction, claim it as already yours. Think and speak of what you visualize as if you actually possess it.

Live as real and as often all the time in the imaginary environment you have constructed in your mind. Over time you will soon see that faith and purpose will accompany your imagination which will make the difference between a dream and a realized ambition.

When you have true faith, you lose the urge to boast once you have attained what you had visualized.

The 3 Fold Stage of Money Manifestation Exercise

This money attraction technique is currently taught in some metaphysical schools. The process use 3 simple principles. Intention is all that is needed to activate the process and faith allows it to manifest.

1– Allow yourself to have/want. Know you are worthy/deserving of the blessings the divine wants to bestow upon you.

2– With heartfelt sincerity, be grateful and thankful for all the blessings currently in your life.

3– Tidy up and clean up what needs tidying up. This can mean different things for different people. For some it means clearing out the garage or tidying up paperwork. For others it may include kicking an old habit or ceasing habits that are not conducive to your decision to live at your new income level.

4- Next visualize the aforementioned as 3 points of light in a triangle and allow them to be surrounded by the light of your heart. Have utmost faith that it will manifest.

This concludes the exercise.

What is Faith?

Faith is simply the perceiving power of the mind lined with a power to create substance.

I commit to increasing my net worth and my self- worth. I am worthy

Every year at the equinoxes / solstices, lifestyles and habits of people change, more so than other times. Reminding oneself that you deserve and are worthy of abundance 3 weeks before the two solstices and equinoxes every year is a good time review this commitment.

Ask, Believe, Receive

3 principles that relate to one another are ask, receive and believe. Ask all wishes be fulfilled. Believe in them. Be open to receiving them.

True godliness is the same as true wisdom. The wise man will utilize the powers and forces at his disposal, allowing the universe to reveal her treasure house for all who seek prosperity and riches.

If we choose to serve a God of money we will always feel a lack of it. By placing the divine first, we connect to the source, allowing for a natural flow to occur through us unimpeded

How to Tap into the Wisdom and Guidance from Experts

You can tap into the creative source of inspiration from experts that once lived, are living or are going to live. This is a simple, yet very effective technique when you are working on a complex issue or problem and want to use it to simplify a process or receive answers.

New Millennium Millionaire Secrets to Fortune, Prosperity and Happiness

Step 1: Think of masters or experts that relate to the project you are working on. For example if it is physics, picture Einstein in a room standing behind you as you are seated at a desk working on your problem. If you feel you require more brainpower to solve your problem, imagine Oppenheimer and Niels Bohr joining Einstein.

Step 2: Next picture their higher qualities related to the topic you are working on flowing down from them to you, assisting and guiding you.

Step 3: As you experience their higher qualities, be aware of any thoughts, sensations and experiences you feel.

Step 4: Next write down everything you have received and review and evaluate the information to gain a better picture of the solution you are seeking.

Time has no meaning when you call upon the higher qualities of masters and experts. You can visualize great masters from the past, present, future or even all 3 in time guiding and giving you advice and helpful information that will help solve your dilemma.

How to Make a Dream Map

Some people prefer mantras or affirmations to help them achieve goals, others people prefer making a personal decision or commitment. Usually artists prefer personal decisions and logical type persons find affirmations work better for them. Let's explore how to make a dream map.

A dream map is also called a treasure map. It is simply a goal that you want to manifest put on paper in the form of a picture. The larger the goal, usually the more time, patience and resources it takes to draw the map. A wish box simplifies your grand vision by way of a simple picture you create. The best way to do this is to make a color drawing or use pictures cut out from magazines. You can even use more than one picture on the same page. For example, divide a standard 8.5 x 11 piece of paper into 4 parts. One portion could be meeting your ideal lover, the other portion taking a trip around the world, the other paying cash for your home and the other enjoying perfect health and a lifestyle of wellness.

When making your dream map, it is key that somewhere in the picture you write down thankfulness for having already received it. This is known as “giving thanks in advance”. Thank the divine source from which it comes for having already manifested your desire. This will speed up the process at which it comes into your life. Write under each picture "I give thanks for the immediate fulfillment of all these requests in divine order through divine love".

Next place your dream map where you will see it most often. This can be on a refrigerator door, garage door, closet door, or any location you will pass by often and find convenient. Keep faith in the picture you have drawn and in time your will dream map will manifest your desire.

Sometimes you may find that your dream map did not turn out as intended. This is because what will manifest will do so according to your expectations and beliefs.

Some more experienced dream map makers will reserve a special location in their homes or offices that may be a particular location or space on a wall or room and dedicate that space as a “manifestation space” where they place their dream maps.

Making A Wish Box

A wish box is another process that uses your imagination to help manifest your desires. A wish box acts as a lens for your intention. In this case we are going to build and decorate a box.

Your wish box can be made from any material, but wood is the best. If you like, you can decorate your wish box with glitter, paint or any other type of artwork. Simply place a symbol or picture inside the box that represents your request. Before dropping your goal into the box, squeeze your hand to reinforce the intention. Next place a stone on top of the wish box. Choose different stones according to your wish. Below are some starters:

- Citrine - brings a steady flow of money
- Diamond - materializes money, even small chips of diamond are powerful
- Emerald - luxury
- Jade - long term prosperity
- Pyrite - business success
- Quartz - attracts wealthy associates

You can also place in the box additional symbols of wealth such as Chinese coins, a four leaf clover, runes or similar symbols that represent luck, prosperity and good fortune.

Learning to Detach and Let Go

Any creative process nearing completion must always go through a period of detachment towards the end. By detaching ourselves, it lets the universe know we can't do it all by ourselves. Artists, writers, producers etc., understand this process. A writer must detach themselves towards the completion of a book. A good affirmation to use that fuels detachment is "I detach, release and let go of my works surrendering them to my higher good allowing them to fulfill their purpose as God and the universe has intended them to be" or "Throughout the finished results of Christ another successful project is successfully completed right here and now!"

Learning to Relax

People who have been too strict and applied a too ridged structure to working with money need to learn to let go and relax that structure more. These types of individuals should also learn to trust their intuition. If they have an addiction to overspending, they must learn to budget and plan expenses more wisely.

I am worthy of total divine compensation from these efforts in unexpected and wonderful ways

Chapter 2 - How To Overcome Self Sabotage On Your Way To Financial Success

Self-sabotage, otherwise known as bad luck, can be eliminated through self-forgiveness and a change in belief. By clearing out self-limiting beliefs, we make more room for abundance. Change your erroneous beliefs and self-sabotage will cease to exist.

Self-sabotage consists of 3 layers 1: A lack of personal forgiveness 2: An erroneous belief system

When these 2 are brought back into alignment with your purpose, you automatically create an increase in your capacity to hold more, do more and achieve more; thus having “enough”.

Notes on Increasing The Capacity to Receive

Your capacity is the total ability to receive or contain; the maximum amount or number that can be contained or received. It is a direct measurement of what you can receive, hold and absorb. It is a reflection of your true potential, skillfulness and resourcefulness. To increase it, learn to take it beyond your current ability to contain, receive or augment your gifts.

- Each new generation goes beyond the previous generation in expanding capacity
- Your capacity for future success is directly influenced by your generosity
- The divine will measure back to you the proportion of the capacity that you present to it

Why Self-Sabotage is Subconscious Sabotage

Every one of your goals to improve your financial condition exists for one of two reasons:

1 - To Avoid Pain

2 - To Gain Pleasure

When you start experiencing difficulties as your momentum of increasing wealth starts to begin, it is because either consciously or subconsciously the accumulation of additional income will lead to more pain than pleasure. It is fear of the unknown; a new experience is creating the fear. Having an abundance of money is the ultimate unknown. It's a new experience for many people. Some people like to remain poor because it makes them feel "comfortable". Fears originating from self-sabotaging behavior can lead to the following self-sabotaging behavior: Overeating, watching excessive television or other habits that become destructive.

If you suddenly experience a surge in income, as your new tastes in life begin to adjust to your new level of wealth, your relatives and friends may feel intimidated and start to distance themselves from you. The fact is people don't really change. It is only the perception / interpretation of the persons making the assessment that casts judgment on how they perceive you. The key to dealing with this is to grow wiser from the experience. It is the new choices you now make from having more resources at your disposal that defines who you are. In the meantime you will make new friends and acquaintances. It may take a few years for old friends and family to adjust, so be patient.

New Millennium Millionaire Secrets to Fortune, Prosperity and Happiness

A person's innermost belief fuels their thoughts. These thoughts lead to feelings. These feelings lead to actions and actions generate results.

Beliefs→ Thoughts→ Feelings→ Actions = Results

You must get yourself ready for wealth. Prepare for a larger income. You may have the power of expectation that it is going to come, however if you are not prepared, you will not be able to grasp and hold onto it. There must be an emotional conditioning process undertaken to handle the gradual increase in wealth. The core principle of emotional conditioning is the pleasure of having money is gained from the experience of generating it and that having lots of money is a positive thing to reestablish our beliefs. Just as belief and faith must be used regularly in order for them to remain effective, conditioning yourself as your income grows is also a muscle that must be flexed regularly.

The pleasure of having money is gained from the experience of generating it and that having lots of money is a positive thing

Taming the Inner Critic

Thoughts of lack generate a negative belief system about money. These thoughts come from our inner critic that doesn't represent a positive sense of ourselves. It behaves like an anti-self, or direct opposite of our positive belief mindset. Our critical inner voice stems from early life experiences, which is where most of our core beliefs come from.

If people we looked up to as role models early on saw us as lazy when we were younger, we may connect opportunities with money with thoughts as "Why bother? You'll never succeed. You don't have the energy to get it done." By falling victim to the inner critic and carrying out its directives, it causes us to engage in self-sabotaging behavior that can really hurt us if left unchecked. Once we become aware of where these self-sabotaging thoughts are coming from (when it begins seeping into our thought processes), we can learn to disconnect from the false sense of motivation caused by the anti-self and re-focus on a better life.

Driven by fear of rejection, some shy people may engage in self-sabotage behavior to prevent themselves from growing closer to others. This also stems from a lack of believing in oneself and can make one vulnerable to seeing themselves as a victim of circumstance.

Changing self-sabotaging behaviors moves you out of your comfort zone. It takes personal courage to change deeply engrained, old attitudes that we are holding onto about ourselves. If we want to lead a truly happy and fulfilling life filled with positive experiences of having money, disconnecting from the anti-self is essential. Here is a simple exercise anyone can do to quiet their anti-self:

Step one - Learn to separate your anti-self (critical inner voice(s)) based on early life experiences.

Step two - Avoid practicing traits we have learned from previous role models that may still be injuring us.

Step three – Don't be afraid to take on challenges that may put you in self-sabotaging situations and consciously make the effort to change. These are key opportunities to build strength and resilience.

Step four - Learn to develop your own ideals, beliefs and values.

How do we concrete a belief that having money is a positive thing? We train our minds to believe that abundance already exists all around us.

your money will grow according to what your beliefs are about money

Chapter 3 – Techniques that Open the Flow to Receive

Receiving generates healthy circulation. Learning to receive begins by being grateful. By being grateful we offer recognition to the infinite source of the good within us.

Life wants us to express its fullness of life and power through us by showing us its realization of our oneness with the Infinite Power. It wants to show us that we have the power to tap into a never ending supply that is always there to fulfill all things we desire. When the time is right, by ridding ourselves of unnecessary things that may hold us back, allows us to receive.

A growing supply is far better adapted to our present needs than the old could ever possibly be. By adapting to this we enjoy the richest treasures of the Infinite Good and allow ourselves to become open channels through which this good eventually flows to others. Once you make room for it, you receive ideas and inspiration that will move you forward.

Recognize that each of us carries our success or failure within ourselves. Circumstances do not depend upon outside conditions. This realization not only makes you more prosperous, but helps the entire world come to the realization that the power within all of us can overcome any obstacle or challenge. By adhering, establishing and holding onto this simple fact, prosperous opportunities will continually flow your way.

50 percent of businesses fail within their first year and 95 percent of businesses fail within five years because they go into business purely to make money. They forget it is all about service.

Do not Let your Possessions Own You

Some people may think they possess "real wealth" but instead they are possessed by it. After they die, they become unable to take even the smallest amount of their accumulations with them. Whereupon they are born again, naked, destitute and helpless. After passing, the only things a person takes with them are their currently developed traits of character, their acts of kindness, their realized powers of the soul and the riches of the inner life.

There is a saying that those enslaved by material possessions will continue to be enslaved by them even after they die. Excessive material possessions can cause one to lose affection for the real meaning of life.

Events, situations and circumstances that enter our life do so not as a means of possessions or being hoarded, but instead as tools to be used for a higher purpose. We are spiritual stewards. Stewards are held accountable for how their tools are used and whatever is entrusted to them.

That is why the great law of compensation that governs life is wonderfully exact in its workings. Even though at times we may not always fully comprehend what is going on, or recognize it.

Some people think survival depends on what material things they can accumulate. They falsely believe it brings them a lasting sense of fulfillment. This short term false belief is built out of fear, struggle and lack. You may earn the financial goals you set out for yourself in this way, however the price paid is you end up being ruled by your money.

Once a person comes to the realization of a higher life involving service towards others, they no longer have desires for excessive wealth, including a desire for any other type of excess. This is because the person recognizes they are already wealthy within. They “have enough” and “are enough”. External wealth becomes less important. They can call upon the source within to put forth their inner power to call to them at any time, a sufficient supply for any desire they choose. This avoids them burdening themselves with vast material accumulations that require constant care and attention, acting as a distraction from the meaning of life.

Some people show spiritually stunted lives. They have the opportunity to become spiritually enriched and nourished, filled with joy if only they use that which they spent their lives accumulating on the greater good. It is a poor excuse of a life to have lots of money, yet be lacking in the true spiritual laws.

Ask yourself this simple question, which is the wiser path? To have millions of dollars, with the burden of taking care of it all, or to understand the universal law that every need will be supplied in good time; that nothing good is ever withheld, and that we have the power to make the supply always available to us according to demand?

When circulation in our body becomes constricted it causes disease, wealth beyond a certain amount, not put into proper circulation, is not useful and has no real purpose. It becomes a hindrance rather than an aid. This turns into a curse rather than a blessing, unless the money has been put towards the greater good.

When you choose to be a participant of the greater good you become blessed. You pull towards you wealth and opportunities.

they first found the kingdom, then they realized that when this was found all else followed in measure

The Power of Expectation

Professional weight lifters will beat their personal best when they believe they just took a performance booster (the placebo effect). Brain scans have shown that a person's expectations about a wine (after they had read a critic's review, or by the price of the wine) changed the level of their reward centers in their brains after they had taken a sip of the wine.

Having strong expectations that your intentions will manifest goes a long way towards attracting them to you. Some people believe the power of expectation combined with belief is so strong that it can change reality when both are strong enough.

Courage

Blind courage kills. Sensible courage is one of the key elements for growing. It takes personal courage to look at our spending habits and keep track of expenses. It also takes courage to take intrepid risks and try new things and it takes courage to resist personally destructive urges.

Courage is highly dependent upon self-discipline. Having the self-discipline necessary to adhere to a budget plan may be necessary for some people. This self-discipline will then flow to other areas of your life once you have achieved even a small amount. Self-discipline acts as a shield against outside influences that would otherwise distract you.

Why Flexible Goal setting achieves better results

Allow For Flexibility In Your Goal Setting. A river or stream never follows a direct path. Remain open to changes, allowing for a degree of flexibility to occur along the way. Unexpected changes give you opportunity to stretch your knowledge.

Failure creates fertile soil to reinvent

Setting goals and working towards them does not mean setting them in concrete. There is a clear difference between distraction and losing focus and having flexibility on the path to success. Short term goals manifest more rapidly with more focus and less flexibility. Any long term goal, especially a large project, will always involve with it some form of flexibility along the way. There must exist a balance of knowing when to be flexible and how much time to devote to focus.

Instead transform your long term goals into objectives. Focusing on long term goals leads one to focus on what they don't already have, causing the mind to focus only on the lack that exists in the present. Staying too focused for too long will also cause you to repel what you are trying to achieve. An objective allows thoughts to come first, followed by emotion then desire.

New Millennium Millionaire Secrets to Fortune, Prosperity and Happiness

Thoughts of objectives should include the good you bring people to in the world. Also objectives of profitability and growth are key. Objectives must include belief. Sacrifices are a part of the process. Deliver the best product to the marketplace offering the best service possible. Help people get what they want and you will get rich during the process.

By giving more service for that which you receive monetary compensation for, eventually results in larger monetary returns

As you near the end of your objective, it is important to start detaching, releasing and letting go. This allows it to fully come into fruition. It also reminds us that we can't always do it alone. We may have planted the seed, but the divine waters it with its spirit providing the necessary nutrients for growth.

Obstacles as a Tool to Create Strength

Without challenges there would be no growth. Obstacles are put in front of you to give you strength. This way you are able to effortlessly soar through them again should they re-appear. Complaining takes away growth and drains valuable strength. Learn and grow from the challenges. They will make you stronger. When we entertain failure it causes us to abandon our plans.

Cleansing The Money You Receive

When money is first received, it has accumulated its own polarity from having been passed on from person to person.

It is important to bless any money you first receive so the effects it has on you will be in the positive. Repeat this blessing when receiving money: "May this money be purified of negative accumulations and be charged with the divine energy of light and love. May these funds be used for the benefit of all beings"

One method to feel this "refreshed" energy for yourself is to carry around with you a $100 for a week. At the end of the week, at the bank, exchange it or get a new $100 bill. As you carry the new $100 bill around with you will notice that it "feels" different compared to having carried the same $100 bill around for days.

Failure creates fertile soil to reinvent
